BRAEMAR ALUMNI BULLETIN

Back to School News

Another school year is well on its way and it is off to a great start.

As part of our continued investment in the building, over the summer several small improvement projects were completed. When you visit, you'll notice freshly painted bulkheads and refreshed doors and trim in the main building, newly painted gym doors, and upgraded LED lighting in the hallway. We hope you will visit! Pop in and say hi.

We wish our newest Braemar alumni, the class of 2025, all the best in high school. As well, many members of the class of 2021 are starting their post secondary education. We have heard from several and wish you all the best.

Alumni News

Deanna Haas
Class of 2014

Deanna will be living in Italy and Belgium.

She has graduated from Trent University with an undergraduate degree in Forensic Chemistry. She has recently been accepted to a double master's program in Europe called the EMOTION Master: The European Master in Translational Cosmetic and Dermatological Sciences and will study in Italy and Belgium. This is a competitive program, there were 1000 applications for 18 positions and only one person per country is accepted and she was chosen from Canada. She also received a full scholarship for the program.

Dysan Nanda
Class of 2015

Dysan lives in Vancouver, BC

After graduating from the British Columbia Institute of Technology (BCIT) Television and Video Production program just over a year ago, he landed a role in the video game industry with Electronic Arts. He currently works on the creative team that produces video game trailers for the EA Sports FC series (formerly known as FIFA). It's an exciting opportunity to combine visual storytelling with one of the world's most recognized gaming franchises.

Trinity Hilsden
Class of 2022

Trinity lives in Woodstock, ON

She is heading into Grade 12 at Hillfield Strathallan College in Hamilton. She spent July at McMaster University participating in SHAD 2025, a STEM and entrepreneurship program for Grade 10 and 11 students. She and 61 other participants participated in innovative activities, lectures, and workshops related to STEM. She found this experience to be incredibly meaningful, and it helped her consider new potential career paths. She would encourage other grade 10 or 11 students interested in STEM to apply.
